

This crayon wants to be the only colour of the sun too. Duncan only used him once, but on the first page.

Colour:

Duncan does not use this crayon very often, but the crayon is proud of his colour. He does not want to be called "light brown" or "dark tan".

Colour:

This crayon is happy because he has a lot of work to do. He wants the yellow and the orange crayon to make peace.

This crayon is in a fight with another one. He thinks he is the only colour of the sun because Duncan used him to colour the sun in two of his stories.
Colour:

This crayon is used for wizard hats and grapes. He wants Duncan to colour inside the lines.
Colour:

Duncan uses this crayon for colouring elephants, rhinos and hippos, but he could use it for pebbles too.
Colour:

This crayon is sad because he is invisible on white paper and because he is not a colour of the rainbow.
