

He would wish himself square,
 or round as a biscuit,
 Triangular, oval...
 Name it, he wished it.

One day, just for fun,
 That silly old fish
 Wished the silliest, silliest
 Wish he could wish....

That silly old fish
 Wished he could be
 Just like the other fish
 There, in the sea.
 But wishing was something
 Other fish could not do.
 So that was his very last wish that came true.

If sharks came hunting (jagen)
 For a nice fishy treat
 (Fischleckerli),
 He would quickly just wish
 He was too small to eat.

Once, when he wished
 He could go out and ski
 It snowed for a week under the sea.

He wished for a castle.
 He wished for a car.
 He wished for a horse and a
 Spanish guitar.

In the deep blue sea,
 swam a fish who could wish,
 and each wish would come true.
